June - 2023

Chairman's Note

June 1, 2023

Dear Alumni and friends,

Summer is here and as is the case at this time of year, it is the season of graduations, vacations, and being outdoors as much as you can.

The AMA campus was buzzing with events in May where we held our Music in the Museum concerts, held Noble Legend presentations, we had our second Spring Festival and for the first time, hosted a "Cruise In" where over 30 classic cars participated. It was a pretty cool site to see a bunch of beautifully restored cars (and a bus) parked on the Blacktop!

Once again kudos to our Museum Staff! Amy, Chris, Rich and Autumn for once again doing a spectacular job at putting all of this together! A special thanks to Gordon Metz who was instrumental in getting the Cruise In to happen in addition to sponsoring the event. Thank you to Steve Trent, Victor Gomez, Chris Metz, Bud Oakey, Brian Miller, Brennan and Connor Metz (Gordons Grandsons) for helping out and taking pictures.

The AMA Museum has once again won the title of Shenandoah Valley Best for 2023. This year we won in three categories! Kudos again to the Museum team who get most of the credit for this achievement!

The AMA Foundation Board will be holding a work weekend June 23-25. We will have a closed executive board meeting on Friday June 23 in the morning, and will be moving to the AMA Campus to begin the work portion at the conclusion of the meeting. Saturday will be spent on campus in the continuation of work mode. Anyone that would like to show up to help is much welcomed.

Team effort.

Honoring our Fallen

Jorge Rovirosa '70 and his wife Kiki traveled to Paris on a business trip at the end of May 2023. After Jorge concluded his business, he and Kiki drove 150 miles to the north coast of France to visit The American Cemetery overlooking Omaha Beach. They paid their respects to the thousands of brave Americans that lost their lives in the most important chapter of the European Theater of WWII.

Jorge's primary mission that day was to pay respects to our AMA brothers that are interred at that very special plot of sovereign American Territory. New Cemetery rules do not allow anyone that is not a direct descendant of a fallen warrior to walk on the gravesite grass, yet Jorge met with the cemetery administration, and explained that he was representing thousands of AMA alumni in his quest to honor two of our fallen. Jorge and Kiki were issued green armbands and were given free access to the hallowed grounds. Jorge placed an AMA flag and a AMA challenge coin on each grave. Lt Col. John H Mathews, AMA 1927, died during the landing on the first wave that hit the beach in June 6,1944. 1st Lt. James MC Clatchey, AMA 1938, also died on the field of honor 15 days after the landing at another inland battle.

Interesting footnote: Lt Col. Mathews was the highest ranking American officer killed in action on the day of the invasion.

Notes From the Museum

By: Chris Correa, Museum Volunteer Coordinator

Harold "Charlie" Chow '53 visited on Friday, May 5, accompanied by his daughter, Leona. His home state team, University of Hawaii, was playing for the men's volleyball championship in Fairfax, enabling him to finally show AMA to his daughter. "Although my four daughters have been all over the world[…]none of them had ever seen AMA."

Charlie grew up in Honolulu, a grandson of Chinese immigrants. At 6 years old, he could hear the attack on Pearl Harbor from his home 10 miles away. His father, a civilian machinist for the Navy "…came on home, loaded his rifles, taught mom how to use them, and turned around and went back to Pearl. We did not see him again for two weeks…."

He transformed at AMA. After being fired from the 7th grade back home, Charlie was sent 4,700 miles away from bad influences. It worked. Over 5 years, the former "rascal brat" excelled in science, made honor roll, rose to Company C captain, marched with the Roller Rifles, and was voted "most military" with the "most school spirit". He was also a cheerleader (see photo below) and part of the rafter-climbing, death-defying Decorating Committee.

He's been a success ever since. Charlie studied electrical engineering at UNC. While the Recall prophesied that he'd be a pineapple magnate and governor of Hawaii, he instead had a globe-trotting 40-year career with Pan Am and Hawaiian Airlines. His foremost accomplishment was installing one of the industry's first global computer systems, but he was also valued for his expertise in international flight operations. (While based at Pan Am's Manhattan headquarters, Charlie worked with Tom Del Valle's father, Albert, who was the director of the airline's northeast operations and JFK airport. Neither Tom nor Charlie knew their connection until coincidentally visiting the museum on the same day.)

Retired since 1999, Charlie still plays tennis 4 times a week and bikes often.

Asked whether he prefers Harold or Charlie, Mr. Chow says, "you may call [me] either name. (Just don't call me late for 'soupie')."

Charlie, airborne at left, in 1952, and again...
71 yea later.
Sticking the landing.
And wi daught Leona.

This year, our Sports Hall of Fame Inductees are:

- William J. Lane '42:  Basketball & Baseball
- Watson Hill Ellett '63; Football, Basketball, Baseball & Track
- Bruce Reyngoudt '70: Football & Lacrosse
- 1972 Lacrosse Team

Each inductee will be recognized at the Saturday lunch at the September reunion.

Congratulations to everyone that was selected!

Coach Don Studer on the move

On May 23-27, Don Studer, longtime AMA Jr. ROTC instructor and Rifle team coach and museum volunteer, joined Tom Del Valle and Garry Granger at the 35,000-acre NRA Wittington Center shooting complex near Raton New Mexico.

Coach Studer fell right in character spotting for Tom and Garry, and as is evidenced by the picture, decided to show the boys how it's done.

Don will be attending Reunion 2023 in September!

Message from the Reunion Committee

- When we invited faculty to our annual reunion in September 2021, it became clear that there are a number of former AMA faculty members with attachments to Augusta as strong or nearly as strong as those of us former cadets. Many of these instructors spent the major part of their lives working for and in some cases living with AMA cadets, and the Reunion Committee has decided that we would like to make the inclusion of former faculty a reunion tradition going forward. And we also think their participation in the reunion should be on those of us who benefited from their dedication and knowledge.

- To that end, it has been decided to invite all the former faculty for whom we have contact information to Saturday's Founders Day Ceremony and "Mission Barbeque" lunch in the gymnasium. This would enable those faculty who can attend to enjoy a day's fellowship with alumni and return home in time for dinner.

- To accomplish this without dipping into our already strained finances, we're asking those former cadets who appreciate the education these faculty members gave to us to donate $50 to cover meal costs for the luncheon. You can donate for as many faculty members as you'd like. (You can also donate $50 to defray the cost of a Saturday evening dinner for a VIP guest.) You'll find information on donating on the registration form in this newsletter. If you've already sent in your registration, you can send a check directly to the Foundation and indicate "Faculty Meal(s)" or "VIP Meal(s)" in the Memo Line.

- We're working from a contact list compiled by museum staff a couple of years ago and updating contact information as we can. If you have kept in touch with any former faculty member and can provide us with any current contact information, including mailing address, email address and/or phone, please email to doug.whatzup@gmail.com. If you know of any faculty member deaths, that information would be helpful as well.

- These surviving former faculty are an even older bunch than us alumni, and they contributed to our lives in ways that many of us have come to appreciate more and more as we grow older. They have as much right to enjoy the reunion as we do, so please help make that possible.

GOLF ANYONE?

Recently, it was brought to my attention that several cadets were reluctant to golf at our annual reunion golf outing. The reason? They felt their golf skills weren't as sharp as they thought they should be. SERIOUSLY? Come on guys! 1. First off, not one of us is going on tour anytime soon. 2. If you saw me playing, you'd think to yourself, Herb, why don't you take up bowling? 3. We're out having fun and that includes HACKERS! 4. With enough participants, we could always play "Captains Choice Best Ball." But we need more participants.

The point of my message is, we need more golfers for our annual golf outing. Why sit in your hotel, BORING! when you could come out on a beautiful sunny day, and make fun of each other, at each other expense and have some fun. Isn't that "da" AMA way? Come on guys, brush the dust off your clubs and join us for a morning of pure torture and delight. We're not getting any younger so let's play while we can and have some fun.

I hope you'll seriously consider playing with us on Friday, September 8th at the Ironwood golf course in Verona. Should you decide to play with us, and you better, please contact me at:

Doug Pennock's Viewpoint

June 1, 2023

Dear Readers,

I love a good laugh.

Laughing is good exercise for the soul and a great way to momentarily erase any creases your face may be afflicted with.

I usually have a good laugh or two when I'm kidding around with my wife, or when I have the opportunity to hang out with my grandkids. They have both inherited my dry sense of humor and have become deft at being intellectually witty and really funny while having a conversation about pretty much any subject. The same goes for my two sons. These two men, who I was a witness at their entering the world many years ago, have become my best friends and fellow joke providers for many good belly laughs.

Whenever I have the opportunity to spend time with my AMA brothers, whether on the phone, a Zoom call or in person, inevitably the jokes, pranks, and faux disrespect will begin in earnest within the first sentence. It will usually get more intense and relentless as the day goes on. I always need a couple days to decompress and rest after having spent time with my fellow AMA brethren. The pain in my side and gut caused by incessant belly laughing can be debilitating.

So, if you're having a bad day, feeling a little off or just need a pick me up, I suggest that you pick up your phone and take a strong dose by calling someone who absolutely has no inhibitions about lighting you up!

This could also be described as unconditional love for your AMA brothers..

From the Administrators Desk

June 1, 2023

Happy June!

Can you believe we are already in June!! Time is flying as we move toward summer. We have had a busy month here at the museum. On May 13, 2023, we had our 2nd Annual Spring Festival and even though we had a short downpour, the day was a success. Incorporated in with the Spring Festival we also had a Cruise In. We had 30 antique and classic cars cruise in and spend the day with us. And as a bonus, two of the car owners were AMA Alumni! Ed Thompson, Class of 57 cruised in style in his 1936 Chevy Master. David Lowman, class of 63 was sporting his 1965 Chevy Corvair Convertible. This was the first time in MANY years these gentlemen had been back on the AMA Campus. We had a local DJ, Danny Adkins on deck spinning classics from the 50's and 60's. There were 15 crafters/vendors in the gym along with games and activities for the kids. The German Bratwurst Food Truck was here and did not disappoint! The food was outstanding!

I would like to thank our Alumni Sponsors Gordon Metz `68, Steve Trent `70, Brian Miller`67 and his wife Vicki and Marc Aronson `68. Jorge Rovirosa `70 as well as our community member sponsors First Bank and the Verona Ruritan Club. I would also like to thank Cyndi Thompson, Gordon Metz and his grandsons, Connor and Brennan, Steve Trent, Brian and Vicki Miller, Destiny Hitt, Bud Oakey `70 and Remington, Bryan Wills, Chris Metz, and Victor Gomez `68 for coming and volunteering with tours, raffles, registration, and pictures. Without the sponsorships and volunteers, this event would not have been possible. We were able to raise close to $1000.00 to benefit the museum.

Our Fall Festival will be held on October 28, 2023. If you would like to become a sponsor or volunteer for this event, please contact me at museum@amaalumni.org

On May 21 Music at the Museum took place. This is the second in the series of 6 that are held once per month from April to September. The Loya Brothers Band were performing before a small but enthusiastic crowd. These guys did a fantastic job and sounded great! They are excited about coming back and performing for us again. Thank you, Jorge Rovirosa `70 for sponsoring the advertising campaign for this event.

E. K. Knapperberger was our speaker for the May edition of Noble Legends on Wednesday, May 24. Mr. Knapperberger presented some newly discovered information from 1871 concerning the Battle of Chancellorsville and the shooting of General Stonewall Jackson. Once again, I would like to thank Jorge Rovirosa, `70 for sponsoring the advertising for this event.

CONGRATULATIONS!
Our intern, Autumn Hitt, will be graduating high school on June 4! Autumn has been a part of our team since July of 2022. Autumn has done an outstanding job learning the history of AMA and providing tours to our visitors. Behind the scenes, Autumn has helped with Reunion 2022, Fall Festival 2022 and all the events to date this year. This young lady catches on quick and gladly will take on a task, big or small. I am so proud to have Autumn as a part of our team! Autumn plans to stay here at AMA as long as she can, and she will be attending BRCC and has plans to be in the nursing program.

NOW! The BIG ANNOUNCEMENT that I can finally reveal!

THE MUSEUM OF AUGUSTA MILITARY ACADEMY FOR THE 2ND YEAR IN A ROW HAS WON SHENANDOAH VALLEY BEST MUSEUM! WE BROUGHT HOME THE GOLD AGAIN! But the news gets better! We also won the GOLD in Family Attraction and Attraction! This means that this year we won the GOLD in all three categories that we were nominated!!

We could not have reached this point without your support! Thank you for volunteering, sending donations and for voting! The community sees us! They nominated us! They like what we are doing here! The only way we can continue to move forward is with your help. If you can donate a few hours of your time to volunteer docent or even volunteer to work a few hours at one of our events, that helps! If you do not have the time to volunteer but would like to donate to the Museum, go to www.amaalumni.org/donate or mail a check to AMA Alumni Foundation Inc PO Box 100 Fort Defiance VA 24437. Your donation of any size will be greatly appreciated.

Chris, Rich, Autumn, and I appreciate your encouragement and support we receive through your emails, phone calls and Facebook. Thank you for cheering us on!

It Just Goes to Show You…

by: Rich vanBreemen
Museum Curator

In the words of the immortal Gilda Radnor (as Roseanne Roseannadanna), "...it just goes to show you, it's always something — if it ain't one thing, it's another." And so, it goes with this month's newsletter article. May was quite a busy month for us at the museum and I wanted to share with you, three accomplishments.

As promised last month, we have a new exhibit in the museum and to tell you about it, I have to first set the stage. Lassie, Rin Tin-Tin, Ole Yeller, all invoke images of a boy and his dog as glamorized by Hollywood. In truth, animals – more specifically dogs – have been a part of military lore for centuries. Visit the 29th Infantry Museum up the road from us and you will see a (creepy) stuffed dog that was the Division mascot in WW1. AMA was no different in its love for canine companions and we can find stories of Trigger, Tallulah, General Breckinridge, or Rex to name a few, in the Bayonets and Recalls. Specifically, Trigger was a part of the schools very being for 19 years. The November 1979 Bayonet has a wonderful article highlighting his life and time at AMA as the unofficial school mascot. The article reads, in part: "AMA's most valuable mascot died at Augusta on June 4, 1979. Trigger, a collie, was born to Bullett and Brier's Fox in 1960. Col. Sam Wales, Superintendent of Grounds, was the owner of Bullett." I encourage you to look up that issue of the Bayonet on our webpage and read the whole article.

At last year's reunion, a few returning alum went to the tree on the hill between Big Barracks and Beaumont to visit Triggers grave. They were saddened at how the simple homemade tombstone was deteriorating in the weather and wanted to move it inside the museum. This was the seed that prompted the new exhibit. Jeff Wenzel bought a new paver to replace the headstone and it now sits proudly overlooking the campus as we can imagine Trigger did for nearly two decades. Interestingly, Trigger holds the distinction of being the only AMA Alumni or Staff member (depending on how you envision him) to have been buried on the campus grounds!

Moving the headstone into the museum was simple enough but how to explain it to visitors was not. After a good bit of discussion amongst the staff and some creative engineering, the completed exhibit is located as you come through the front door and before you enter the Maggie Belle Parlor. It's something, that for many visitors, enables them to feel a connection to the school through the shared experience of a lost pet. Be sure to check it out on your next visit to the museum and take a stroll up the hill, to say hello to Trigger.

Next, our monthly Nobel Legends guest speaker was local historian, Evan Knappenberger. Evan has the distinction of being the only guest lecturer to have spoken here all 3 years of the program! His presentation on the mystery and controversy of Stonewall Jackson's death in 1863 brought in a heck of a crowd! We had 30+ guests crammed into our little museum and at the conclusion of Evan's presentation, they simply would not leave. I eventually had to be the bad guy, end the questions and start kicking everyone out around 8:30pm!

As part of his presentation, Evan created a 15,000-word booklet which he has graciously made available to us – at no cost to AMA. The only place where this booklet can be purchased is in our Museum PX and the Rocktown History Welcome Center in Dayton VA. In the pamphlet's introduction and acknowledgments, Evan says the following:

"This paper was prepared for presentation at the Augusta Military Academy Museum for their 'Nobel Legend' lecture series in May 2023, 160 years after the death of Thomas Jackson. The work of the AMA Museum staff in building a community of historical interpretation, and in promoting local history in general, has been a valuable resource and deserves special thanks.

Evan is clearly a valued friend of AMA and we are lucky to have made his acquaintance,

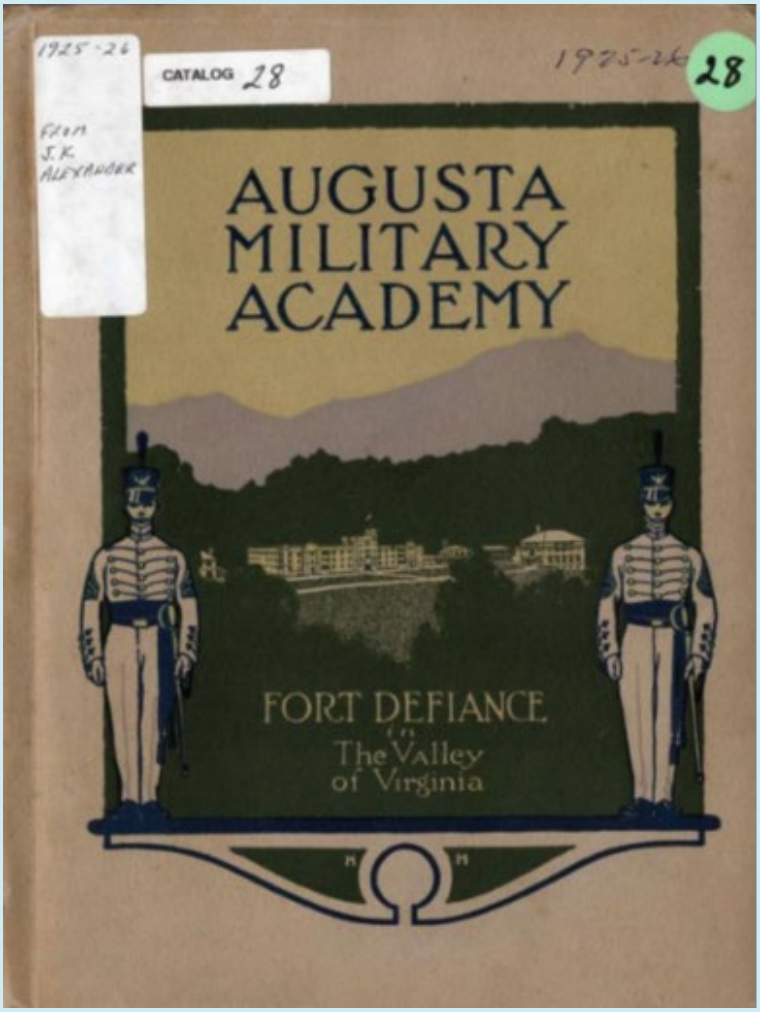
And finally, I wanted to report that the digitization of the school's RECALLS and BAYONETS is complete and available to EVERYONE online. We are presently engaged in scanning all of the school's catalogs (that we have available). This may seem like a weird or unnecessary project, but that's mostly because we have a modern view of what a "catalog" is. Today we think of a catalog as the junk we get in the mail and promptly through away. Apparently, back in the day, these were used in a very different way. We believe, they were made available through school counselors and libraries – not sent to individuals per say. The amount of information buried in these pages and the COST it must have incurred to the school is staggering.

There are a number of catalogs already scanned and on our web site, but there are a fair number of them in our collection which have not been digitized as of yet. Presently, I am scanning the 1925-1926 catalog and it is fascinating.



As with the Bayonet scanning project, I am amazed at the things you can pick out of what was probably considered nothing more than a sales product. The small details intrigue me, such as the list of how many students, from a class of 319, were from which states or countries; i.e. 140 from Virginia, 1 from India, 11 from Florida, etc. but why are the students from Central and South America (2 each) not given a country??? Bizarre.

In this particular catalog, we find as students Charles S. Roller III from Virginia, along with Charles F. Pennock from New York – do those names sound familiar?. I picked one random name to see what information we had on him – John H. Messmore.

Born in 1907, he was a 2 year student and left AMA in 1927. No photos of him exist in the Recall since individual cadets were not featured. Past Perfect didn't show anything about him, so I did a little digging – no one should disappear into obscurity like that. John died in 1989, just one week after his 82'nd birthday. He had worked as a manager in the food industry business his entire life. While he registered for the draft in 1939, his age (32) and the fact he was married probably kept him out of the military. It does not appear they had any children. Little else can be found about John Messmore. I updated his records in our database, and added his name to my growing list of "Discovered Deceased".

John Messmore is representative of the vast majority of AMA students and people in general. They arrive, they do what they can, live out their lives for better or worse and then they are gone. Scant few ever make enough of a mark to be a remembered or even celebrate "their 15 minutes of fame". However, when we get a chance to, we owe to humanity to do so. In our own small way, that is exactly what we are trying to do by preserving the history and the stories that are the Augusta Military Academy.
