

Remembering our brothers who have passed from this life

LARUS, JOHN BALDWIN `48

Died 21 January 2013 at home in Richmond, aged 85.

Served with the US Army during the Korean War at the Tokyo Quartermaster Depot.

John worked in the tobacco business where his father had once been an executive. He traveled to some 52 countries while working in the industry.

He was a founder of Central Virginia Bank, which he served as Director and Chairman. He was the managing partner of a real estate development partnership. He served two terms on the Virginia Board of Agriculture and Commerce.

He was a member of the Commonwealth Club, The Country Club of Virginia, Sons of the American Revolution.

Survived by his wife, Jean, children and stepchildren Gavin Larus, John Larus, Jr., Thomas Larus, Benjamin Dennis, David Dennis and Deborah Dennis, ten grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

At Augusta four years: President, Student Body; Captain, C Company, Honor Committee, Cheer leader, Ad Astra per Aspera.

(Reported by Lew Munding, `53.)

(2013 Summer Bayonet)