He was dedicated to his family from enthusiastic supporter of Elizabeth's art career to the children with their horse activities, coaching the girls' basketball teams and attending various sports activities when the girls were growing up. Milton loved to play tennis, garden, travel, and was a very active supporter of his church, St. Peter's in Callaway, Va., by singing in the choir, teaching Sunday school and camp physician at the Phoebe Needles Summer Camp. He had a special fondness for his alma mater, Hampton-Sydney College, where he made many lifelong friends.

We would like to give a special thank you to Milton's doctor, Dr. Roy Habib, who cares for his patients like Milton cared for his own patients. Thank you to his personal caregivers in the last couple of weeks, Carolyn Horton and Porsha Moon, who assisted us like family with Milton's Care. Also, thank you to Good Samaritan Hospice with care and family support. And finally, to the Reverend John Heck from St. Peter's in the Mountains, for his dedicated support of Milton and family over the years and during this difficult time.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations be made to the Phoebe Needles Summer Camp Scholarship to help under privileged children attend camp and/or to St. Peter's in the Mountains Episcopal Church of Callaway, Va
