

Basketball star Andre Allen, '76

Andre Allen was what you would call a very hot basketball player!

On the AMA Gymnasium floor, he was named both the most valuable offensive player and the most valuable player on defense.

Quite an accomplishment!

A very tall pivot man, Andre played the post masterfully.

Andre played on the PG teams for two years before AMA joined the Virginia Independent Conference.

In his first VIC tournament, he was MVP.

Coach Joe Josephson says that Andre was a great all round player and a tremendous rebounder.

It's clear that he was a superb team player.

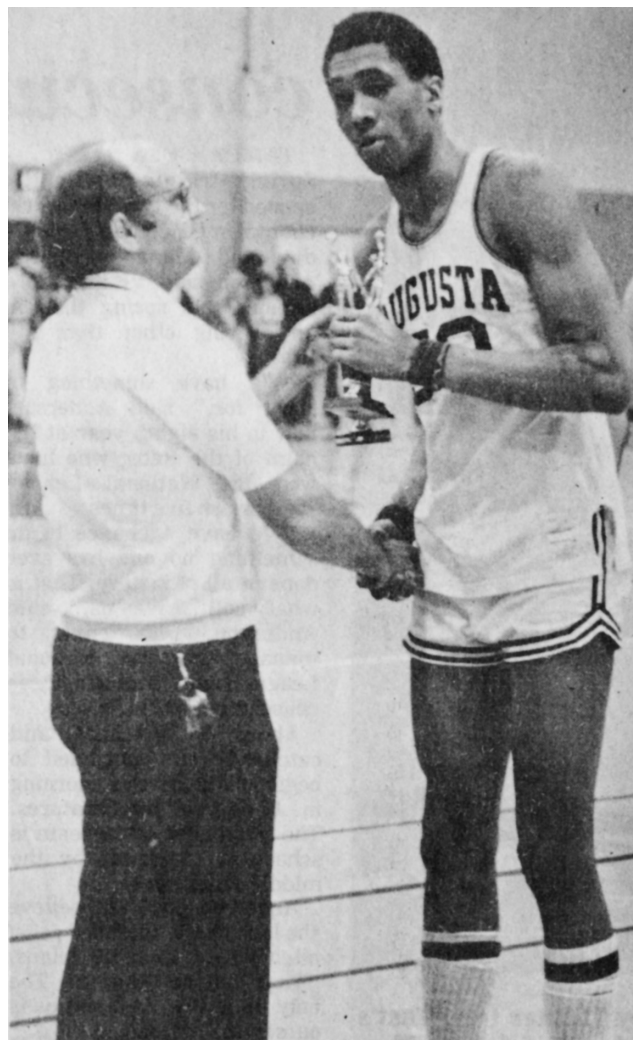

Andre went on to become a star player at Fairmont State University in West Virginia.

In the 1979-80 season, Fairmont won the conference men's basketball title.

Andre Allen starred in each game and is well know around Fairmont for his sterling athletic achievements.

Cadets at AMA while Allen played there said that he was an exciting player to watch, one who was not afraid to push the envelope.

Andre Allen – hoops hero!

Andre Allen receives MVP Award after the VIC Championship game.
